COURSE LOCATION: SS 113

COURSE PRE-REQUISITES: None

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This lecture-based junior course introduces students to the main concepts, theories, issues and trends that characterize the politics of developing states in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. These 'globally southern' states display a vast array of political, economic and social differences that are unique to each country, region and continent yet they share common political issues and trends that distinguish them from the more developed, 'northern' states. This course focuses on and critically interrogates these distinguishing features of Global South politics. Such features include their pre-colonial political institutions and processes, experiences under colonial rule, independence and post-colonial development, regime change and democratization, civil and regional conflicts, poverty and 'underdevelopment', crises of refugee and forced migration movements and late (and often exploitative) integration into the contemporary global political economy.

The course will begin with an introduction to the political concepts relevant to developing states and will critically trace the history of academic attention to the 'Third World'. Students will then learn the main theories and perspectives used in Political Science, International Relations and Development Studies to understand and explain Global South politics. Using analytical tools and insights from these theoretical perspectives, the rest of the course will identify and critically engage with the main features that characterize the politics of the Global South.

COURSE OBJECTIVES & LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The objectives of this course are to:

- Introduce students to the core concepts, theories, ideas and issues of Global South politics and, when relevant, to those of Political Science/International Relations more generally;
- Develop critical analytical skills for understanding politics of the Global South;
- Support and/or develop the base knowledge, analytical, research and writing skills for students pursuing further studies on Comparative Politics and International Relations; and
- Cultivate an understanding of theory and the skills to apply theoretical perspectives to real world issues and case studies.

Upon completion of this course students should be able to:

- Engage in discussion on the politics of the Global South using the relevant language and concepts with knowledge on historical and contemporary issues;
- Understand current debates on Global South politics and be able to critically interrogate relevant ideas and issues;
- Understand and apply key theoretical perspectives to the real world;
- Conduct academic research and effectively communicate research findings and arguments through written assignments and class discussions

WRITTEN RESEARCH ASSIGNMENT

Students will be expected to write a short (4-5 page, double spaced) paper that applies one of the theoretical perspectives discussed in the second day of classes (July 9th) to a single issue (i.e. inequality, development, conflict, corruption) of a single country in the Global South. Research topics and case studies should be approved by the instructor no later than July 30th. Students are expected to collect information for their case study through research of at least 4 sources (i.e. academic journals, books, reports). Research sources are to be cited using the MLA citation style. Papers are to be submitted to the D2L/Dropbox no later than 11:59 pm on August 13th.

The papers will be graded according to writing proficiency, proper citation, a demonstrated understanding of the theoretical perspective, a clear and consistent application of the theory and the quality and application of research on the issue and case study.

Further information for this assignment will be provided in class on Monday July 30th.

INSTRUCTOR GUIDELINES

Students requiring assistance are encouraged to speak to the instructor during class or their office hours. Should you wish to meet outside of office hours, please telephone or email to make an appointment. It is to the student's advantage to keep such appointments.

Email is a common form of communication but it is not always the most effective way of answering student questions. If you cannot make office hours, please request a one on one meeting outside of these hours.

Students are welcome to use laptops and other electronic note-taking devices in this course. Please be considerate of others and switch off all cell phones when you enter the classroom. Sending/receiving texts and browsing the Web is extremely disruptive to others and will not be tolerated.

IMPORTANT POLICIES AND INFORMATION

Absence from a Mid-term Examination:

Students who are absent from a scheduled term test or quiz for legitimate reasons (e.g. illness with the appropriate documentation) are responsible for contacting the instructor via email within 48 hours of the missed test to discuss alternative arrangements. A copy of this email may be requested as proof of the attempt to contact the instructor. Any student who fails to do so forfeits the right to a makeup test.

Deferral of a Final Examination:

Deferral of a final examination can be granted for reasons of illness, domestic affliction, and unforeseen circumstances, as well as to those with three (3) final exams scheduled within a 24-hour period. Deferred final exams will not be granted to those who sit the exam, who have made travel arrangements that conflict with their exam, or who have misread the examination timetable. The decision to allow a deferred final exam rests not with the instructor but with Enrolment Services. Instructors should, however, be notified if you will be absent during the examination. The Application for Deferred Final Exam, deadlines, requirements and submission instructions can be found on the Enrolment Services website at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams>.

Appeals:

If a student has a concern about the course or a grade they have been assigned, they must first discuss their concerns with the instructor. If this does not resolve the matter, the student then proceed with an academic appeal. The first step in an academic appeal is to set up a meeting with the Department Head. Appeals must be requested within 15 days of receipt of the graded assignment.

University Regulations:

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the University policies found in the Academic Regulations sections of the Calendar at www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/academic-regs.html.

Student Accommodations:

Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor.

The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf>.

Plagiarism and Other Forms of Academic Misconduct:

Academic misconduct in any form (e.g. cheating, plagiarism) is a serious academic offence that can lead to disciplinary probation, suspension or expulsion from the University. Students are expected to be familiar with the standards surrounding academic honesty; these can be found in the University of Calgary calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-5.html>. Such offences will be taken seriously and reported immediately, as required by Faculty of Arts policy.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP):

FOIP legislation requires that instructors maintain the confidentiality of student information. In practice, this means that student assignment and tests cannot be left for collection in any public place without the consent of the student. It also means that grades cannot be distributed via email. Final exams are kept by instructors but can be viewed by contacting them or the main office in the Department of Political Science. Any uncollected assignments and tests meant to be returned will be destroyed after six months from the end of term; final examinations are destroyed after one year.

Evacuation Assembly Points:

In the event of an emergency evacuation from class, students are required to gather in designated assembly points. Please check the list found at www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/assemblypoints and note the assembly point nearest to your classroom.
