INSTRUCTOR: Gina Starblanket
TELEPHONE: 403.220.4103
EMAIL: gina.starblanket@ucalgary.ca
OFFICE HOURS: Over Zoom by appointment. Please book your appointments through https://ginastarblanket.youcanbook.me/ Email or office hours are the preferred method of contact.
DAYS/TIME: Synchronous zoom classes on Sept 10, Oct 1, Oct 22, Nov 19, & Dec 3 (6:00 – 7:30 pm)
DELIVERY METHOD: Online hybrid format: synchronous and asynchronous
PRE-REQUISITES: Any 3 units in POLI or any 3 units in INDG
ANTI-REQUISITES: Credit for Political Science 422 and 424 will not be allowed.

COURSE DESCRIPTION
An introduction to historical and contemporary socio-political issues surrounding Indigenous-state relations in Canada. This course focuses on the foundational concepts, issues, and debates that shape the political relationship between Indigenous peoples and the Canadian state. Students will learn the basic elements of settler colonial political formations and how these configure our understanding of political ideas, actors, and institutions. Indigenous political traditions and practices will be explored, along with their relationship to Canadian political theories and practices.

The course will take place online via Desire2Learn (D2L), Wikiedu, Zoom, and video hosting sites for multimedia content (NFB, Curio, Youtube). Students are required to participate in 5 synchronous course meetings (Sept 10, Oct 1, Oct 22, Nov 19, and Dec 3) and also have the opportunity to meet with the instructor for office hours (either one-on-one or in groups) at any point throughout the term.
Students are also required to participate in the asynchronous learning tasks using the D2L learning environment and Wikiedu. Readings, video lectures, weekly powerpoints, links to Wikiedu, to Zoom sessions, and to assigned multimedia will be provided on D2L.

COURSE OBJECTIVES AND LEARNING OUTCOMES
By the completion of this course, successful students will be able to:
1) Understand the evolving structure of settler colonialism in Canada and its impact on Indigenous-state relations
2) Comprehend and engage with Indigenous critiques of settler political formations and processes
3) Provide an overview of significant political issues within Indigenous communities
4) Exercise media and information literacy regarding Indigenous people. Students will gain an understanding of the ways in which information about Indigenous people is gathered, presented and consumed online. They will learn to review materials, verify sources, and synthesize, analyze, and present a broad range of information in a focused manner.

5) Demonstrate their critical thinking, research, and analysis skills. These include being able to: deconstruct major themes and questions from the readings and lectures; explain the political significance and implications of different theories and approaches, and to develop and sustain an argument relative to subjects covered in the course.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK(S)
There is no textbook for this course. However, there are mandatory weekly readings and multimedia content on D2L.

REQUIRED TECHNOLOGY
There is a D2L site for this course which contains required readings, course powerpoints, discussion forums, links to videos and other relevant class resources and materials (see d2L.ucalgary.ca).

In order to successfully engage in their learning experiences at the University of Calgary, students taking online, remote and blended courses are required to have reliable access to the following technology:

- A computer with a supported operating system, as well as the latest security, and malware updates;
- A current and updated web browser;
- Webcam (built-in or external);
- Microphone and speaker (built-in or external), or headset with microphone;
- Current antivirus and/or firewall software enabled;
- Broadband internet connection.

Most current laptops will have a built-in webcam, speaker and microphone.

ADDITIONAL READINGS AND RESOURCES

The Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples Report offers a comprehensive examination of a range of issues relating to settler colonialism and Indigenous-state relations in Canada. The full report can be accessed at the following link: https://www.bac-lac.gc.ca/eng/discover/aboriginal-heritage/royal-commission-aboriginal-peoples/Pages/final-report.aspx

The University of British Columbia has an excellent online resource on key topics relating to the histories, politics, and cultures of the Aboriginal peoples of Canada, which can be accessed at the following link: https://indigenousfoundations.arts.ubc.ca/home/

ASSIGNMENTS

Weekly Discussion Questions

Value: 20% of final grade
Due Date: Online discussion questions to be completed weekly
Description: Every week, students must respond to questions posed by the professor in the online discussion forum on D2L (written form). Students will be graded on the quantity and quality of both written and oral responses. The professor will provide a grade for the discussion questions mid-way through the term and at the end of the term. These assigned grades will be added to comprise the total grade for the discussion questions.

Wikipedia Research Project

Value: 35% of final grade
Due Date: Milestones and components due throughout term, final Wikipedia entry uploaded by Oct 29th.

Description: A major, multi-stage group research project with integrated mini-assignments, quizzes and milestones. The project takes place in groups, and all components are submitted through the Wikiedu platform. The link to enroll in Wikiedu is available on the course D2L site. Partial marks will be given for individual contributions and partial marks for the final article produced as a group. A grading rubric for this assignment will be circulated via D2L at the start of the term.

RESEARCH PAPER

Value: 20% of final grade
Due Date: Nov 19th, 2020
Length: 2000 words
Description: An individually-written, original analytical paper drawing on the research undertaken in the creation of students’ Wikipedia articles. Students are expected to give a brief summary of the focus of their research and analyze it in relation to the course themes and concepts. Please note that this assignment is not intended to be a reflection on the process of using Wikipedia, nor is it a mere description of the information gathered about the subject researched. Rather, it is an opportunity for students to develop their critical thinking skills, and to demonstrate their ability to construct and sustain an argument surrounding a course theme. The research paper should be submitted in .docx format and written in Times New Roman, 12pt font, double-spaced with standard margins. Students may use MLA, APA, or Chicago style but must be consistent with their choice. Written assignments are to be submitted on D2L prior to the commencement of class on their due date. A grading rubric will be distributed for the research paper near the start of the term.

FINAL EXAMINATION
Value: 25% of final grade
Due Date: Dec 6th, 2020
Description: Cumulative take-home final exam (handed out on Dec 3rd)
This exam will be a combination of short answer questions (3 out of 4) and a long answer (1 out of 2) essay question. It will draw on readings, videos, and lectures from the entire course. Students will be assessed on their ability to engage with key topics and debates covered in class. This exam will require more thought than conventional multiple-choice or true/false exams. It is not enough to simply know a fixed definition of a concept; rather, students will be asked to demonstrate a strong understanding of and the ability to discuss, apply, and engage with course concepts. The exam will be posted at the completion of class on Dec 3rd and students can complete the exam at any point between this time and midnight on Dec 6th.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS
Written assignments are often required in Political Science courses, and the quality of writing skills, including but not limited to such elements as grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, clarity, citation, and organization, will be taken into account in the determination of grades. Students are encouraged to make use of the services offered through Writing Support Services in the Student Success Centre by contacting them at http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support.

LATE PENALTIES
Late assignments are penalized 5% per day (including weekends and holidays). Note that an assignment submitted ten or more days after the due date will be assigned a grade of 0%.
Students are responsible for keeping up with any announced changes, additions, and deletions to the syllabus. Absence from class is not a valid excuse for failing to meet deadlines or fulfill course requirements.

INSTRUCTOR GUIDELINES

Students requiring assistance are encouraged to speak to the instructor during class or their office hours. Should you wish to meet outside of office hours, please telephone or email to make an appointment. It is to the student’s advantage to keep such appointments. All meetings will be held virtually.

Email is a common form of communication but it is not always the most effective way of answering student questions. If you cannot make office hours, please request a one on one meeting outside of these hours, to be held virtually.

Expectations for Attendance and Participation

Since we will not be meeting in-person, is important that you attend the synchronous meeting times regularly and that you participate fully and appropriately in both synchronous and asynchronous components. Please come to our zoom meetings prepared, having read the material and watched the lectures in preparation for discussions and activities.

It is my goal that we all engage course materials with a critical lens. Please be aware of discriminatory power relations and strive to maintain a safe environment for other students. I do not provide make-up work for in-class activities when students are absent. If you are absent for any reason, you are responsible for all material covered in class.

Class Communication

Students are required to obtain and use their U of Calgary email account for all communication with the professor. Check your University email account often. You will be held responsible for information about the class posted via email sent between classes (I will give you a reasonable amount of time to check email). I will only send mail to your university account. Full or unchecked e-mailboxes do not excuse you from knowing the content of class emails. Please take the time to properly address your email inquiries, include the course number in the subject line, and make sure to properly sign your message.

Guidelines for Zoom Sessions

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a “live” video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor’s permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct).
Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit: https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/.

Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.).

Recording of Lectures
With the exception of students who have arranged for an accommodation through Student Accessibility Services, no audio or video recording of lectures or presentations is allowed in any format, openly or surreptitiously, in whole or in part without permission from the Professor. Course materials (both paper and digital) are for the participant’s private study and research.

IMPORTANT POLICIES AND INFORMATION

Supporting Documentation and the Use of a Statutory Declaration

As stated in the University Calendar:

Students may be asked to provide supporting documentation for an exemption/special request. This may include, but is not limited to, a prolonged absence from a course where participation is required, a missed course assessment, a deferred examination, or an appeal. Students are encouraged to submit documentation that will support their situation. Supporting documentation may be dependent on the reason noted in their personal statement/explanation provided to explain their situation. This could be medical certificate/documentation, references, police reports, invitation letter, third party letter of support or a statutory declaration etc. The decision to provide supporting documentation that best suits the situation is at the discretion of the student. Students cannot be required to provide specific supporting documentation, such as a medical note.

Students can make a Statutory Declaration as their supporting documentation (available at ucalgary.ca/registrar). This requires students to make a declaration in the presence of a Commissioner for Oaths. It demonstrates the importance of honest and accurate information provided and is a legally binding declaration. Several registered Commissioners for Oaths are available to students at no charge, on campus. For a list of locations to access a Commissioners for Oaths, visit ucalgary.ca/registrar.

Falsification of any supporting documentation will be taken very seriously and may result in disciplinary action through the Academic Discipline regulations or the Student Non-Academic Misconduct policy.
Absence From a Mid-term Examination
Students who are absent from a scheduled term test or quiz for legitimate reasons are responsible for contacting the instructor via email within 48 hours of the missed test to discuss alternative arrangements. A copy of this email may be requested as proof of the attempt to contact the instructor. Any student who fails to do so forfeits the right to a makeup test.

Deferral of a Final Examination
Deferral of a final examination can be granted for reasons of illness, domestic affliction, and unforeseen circumstances, as well as to those with three (3) final exams scheduled within a 24-hour period. Deferred final exams will not be granted to those who sit the exam, who have made travel arrangements that conflict with their exam, or who have misread the examination timetable. The decision to allow a deferred final exam rests not with the instructor but with Enrolment Services. Instructors should, however, be notified if you will be absent during the examination. The Application for Deferred Final Exam, deadlines, requirements and submission instructions can be found on the Enrolment Services website at https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams.

Appeals
If a student has a concern about the course or a grade they have been assigned, they must first discuss their concerns with the instructor. If this does not resolve the matter, the student then proceed with an academic appeal. The first step in an academic appeal is to set up a meeting with the Department Head. Appeals must be requested within 15 days of receipt of the graded assignment.

University Regulations
Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the University policies found in the Academic Regulations sections of the Calendar at www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/academic-regs.html.

Student Accommodations
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor.

The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Plagiarism and Other Forms of Academic Misconduct
Academic misconduct in any form (e.g. cheating, plagiarism) is a serious academic offence that can lead to disciplinary probation, suspension or expulsion from the University. Students are expected to be familiar with the standards surrounding academic honesty; these can be found in the University of Calgary calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html. Such offences will be taken seriously and reported immediately, as required by Faculty of Arts policy.

Required Access to Technology

Please see the University’s resource page at https://ucalgary.service-now.com/it?id=kb_article&sys_id=86e7438013753ac06f3afbb2e144b031

Copyright Legislation

As stated in the University of Calgary Calendar, Academic Regulations, “students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright and requirements of the copyright act to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.”

Instructor Intellectual Property

Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP)

FOIP legislation requires that instructors maintain the confidentiality of student information. In practice, this means that student assignment and tests cannot be left for collection in any public place without the consent of the student. It also means that grades cannot be distributed via email. Final exams are kept by instructors but can be viewed by contacting them or the main office in the Department of Political Science. Any uncollected assignments and tests meant to be returned will be destroyed after six months from the end of term; final examinations are destroyed after one year.
