COURSE PRE-REQUISITES: Political Science 342 or 483

COURSE DESCRIPTION
In this course we will examine key texts and topics concerning the development, conceptualization, codification, and practical application of the laws of armed conflict. The course will begin with an historical overview of the customary laws of war in the ancient and Medieval eras and the evolution and eventual codification of these laws beginning in the mid-nineteenth century through to the contemporary period. This section will include an on-going analysis of how this process of law generation and development paralleled changes in the means and methods of warfare as well as the advent of human rights and international criminal law. Part II examines the question of when the laws of armed conflict do and do not apply to the use of armed force, key legal principles, laws concerning protected and non-protected persons (civilian and military) and the means and methods of warfare. We then examine what constitutes war crimes and detail the legal responsibilities of commanders and their subordinates. Finally, we look at emerging challenges to LOAC such as cyber warfare, autonomous weapon systems, and enhanced soldiers.

COURSE OBJECTIVES & LEARNING OUTCOMES
By the end of the course students will have a grasp of the legal principles underpinning humanitarian law, the content of these laws, the practicalities of applying (or not) the laws governing armed conflict, the use of international criminal law to deter and punish wrong-doing, and more broadly, the complex interplay between law, international politics, technology, and military operations.
REQUIRED TEXTBOOK(S)
There are three required texts for this course. They are available for purchase at the University of Calgary Book Store in physical and electronic form. All other readings are available online through the University of Calgary Library.

COURSE COMPONENT WEIGHTS AND DUE DATES

1. Participation (20% of final grade)
Since the class is a seminar, it is imperative that students come to each class having read all of the readings and prepared to discuss the readings in detail. Assessment of student participation will be based on both the quality and quantity of students’ interventions, with emphasis placed on the ability of the student to show that they have read all of the assigned readings for the week.

2. Papers (65% of final grade)

   a) Short Papers (2 x 15%)
   Each student must write two short papers.
   POLI 543 Students: maximum 2000 words
   POLI 643 Students: maximum 3000 words
   1st short paper between Weeks 2 and 6; 2nd short paper between Weeks 7 and 11.

   Each paper will be based on all of the assigned readings for one week. These short papers should not simply summarize the readings, but rather draw out the common themes, locate them in the context of the study of law and armed conflict, and evaluate their contributions both to the specific topic as well as the broader debates in humanitarian law.

   POLI 543 and POLI 643 students should try to answer the following questions: (i) what is the main theoretical or practical issue at stake? (ii) what is the main contribution of each author and (iii) how does each reading contribute to our knowledge of LOAC and its application in the real world?

   POLI 643 students should also examine (i) whether or not we learned something from the readings that we didn’t already know, (ii) evaluate what kind of evidence is used, and (iii) assess the reliability and validity of the conclusions drawn by the authors.

   Short papers are due via the Dropbox on D2L by 1:59pm on the day the readings analyzed in the paper are discussed in class. Please use the following file naming format: your last name, paper number, course number - e.g. Hiebert1POLI543 (or 643); Hiebert2POLI543 (or 643).

b) Long Paper (1 x 35%): due Tuesday, April 12 by 11:59pm (Week 13)
Each student must also write a research paper.
POLI 543 Students: maximum 4500 words (excluding bibliography)
POLI 643 Students: maximum 6000 words (excluding bibliography)

Students will write a research paper on a topic related to some aspect of law and armed conflict selected by the student in consultation with the professor.

POLI 543 students are expected to include a (i) clear research question and (ii) thesis statement in the introduction and to (iii) provide sufficient evidence to illustrate their case study (or cases if doing a comparative analysis) and arguments.

POLI 643 students are expected to write a more detailed paper with a (i) clearly defined research question and (ii) analytical framework, (iii) a more extensive empirical case study (or cases if doing a comparative analysis) in which the analytical framework is tested/illustrated, and (iv) use a wider variety and number of sources.

The long paper is due via the Dropbox on D2L by 11:59pm on the due date. Please use the following file naming format: your last name, paper number 3, course number - e.g. Hiebert3POLI643 (or 543).

3. Mock Conference Presentation (15% of final grade): March 29, April 5, April 12 (Weeks 11, 12, 13)
The last 2.5 weeks of the course will be taken up with student presentations of their long papers. These presentations will take the form of a mock academic conference in which students present their long research paper on a panel with other students presenting on similar themes. Each presentation will be approximately 15 minutes in length.

If a student misses a required course component, please get in touch the instructor as soon as possible.

LATE PENALTIES
Both short-papers must be submitted by 1:59pm on the day the readings covered in the paper are discussed in class. No late short papers will be accepted. Students can choose another week on which to write their short paper(s) if they cannot make the deadline for their original choice. The late penalty for the long paper is: -5% including weekends.

INSTRUCTOR GUIDELINES

Students requiring assistance are encouraged to speak me during class or office hours. Should you wish to meet outside of office hours, please email to make an appointment. All meetings will be held via Zoom.

Email is a common form of communication but it is not always the most effective way of answering student questions. If you cannot make office hours, please request a one on one meeting outside of these hours, to be held virtually.
IMPORTANT POLICIES AND INFORMATION

Supporting Documentation and the Use of a Statutory Declaration

As stated in the University Calendar:

Students may be asked to provide supporting documentation for an exemption/special request. This may include, but is not limited to, a prolonged absence from a course where participation is required, a missed course assessment, a deferred examination, or an appeal. Students are encouraged to submit documentation that will support their situation. Supporting documentation may be dependent on the reason noted in their personal statement/explanation provided to explain their situation. This could be medical certificate/documentation, references, police reports, invitation letter, third party letter of support or a statutory declaration etc. The decision to provide supporting documentation that best suits the situation is at the discretion of the student. Students cannot be required to provide specific supporting documentation, such as a medical note.

Students can make a Statutory Declaration as their supporting documentation (available at ucalgary.ca/registrar). This requires students to make a declaration in the presence of a Commissioner for Oaths. It demonstrates the importance of honest and accurate information provided and is a legally binding declaration. Several registered Commissioners for Oaths are available to students at no charge, on campus. For a list of locations to access a Commissioner for Oaths, visit ucalgary.ca/registrar).

Falsification of any supporting documentation will be taken very seriously and may result in disciplinary action through the Academic Discipline regulations or the Student Non-Academic Misconduct policy.

This statement is accessible at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html

Absence From a Mid-term Examination
Students who are absent from a scheduled term test or quiz for legitimate reasons are responsible for contacting the instructor via email within 48 hours of the missed test to discuss alternative arrangements. A copy of this email may be requested as proof of the attempt to contact the instructor. Any student who fails to do so forfeits the right to a makeup test.

Deferral of a Final Examination
Deferral of a final examination can be granted for reasons of illness, domestic affliction, and unforeseen circumstances, as well as to those with three (3) final exams scheduled within a 24-hour period. Deferred final exams will not be granted to those who sit the exam, who have made travel arrangements that conflict with their exam, or who have misread the examination timetable. The decision to allow a deferred final exam rests not with the instructor but with Enrolment Services. Instructors should, however, be notified if you will be absent during the examination. The Application for Deferred Final Exam, deadlines, requirements and submission instructions can be found on the Enrolment Services website at https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams.

Reappraisals
The University Calendar states that for reappraisals of graded term work:

“A student who feels that a piece of graded term work (term paper, essay, test, etc.) has been unfairly graded, may have the work reappraised as follows. The student shall discuss the work with the instructor within ten business days of being notified about the mark or of the item's return to the class. If not satisfied, the student shall take the matter to the head of the department offering the course within 2 business days of receiving the decision from the instructor, who will arrange for a reappraisal of the work within the next ten business days. The reappraisal will only be considered if the student provides a detailed rationale that outlines where and for what reason an error is suspected.” See https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/i-2.html

The University Calendar states that for reappraisal of academic assessments (final grades):

“A student may request a reappraisal of a final grade. The only element that will be considered is the final assessment(s) that makes up the final mark (e.g., final examination, final project, and final paper). The exception is when a grade for a piece of graded term work is made available to students after the last day of classes for the term in which the course is scheduled; that grade may also be considered in a reappraisal of the final grade.”

“A student seeking a reappraisal of a final grade should first attempt to review the final assessment with the department or faculty offering the course. After which the student shall obtain a Reappraisal of Final Grade form from ucalgary.ca/registrar (under Student Forms). The student must indicate exactly what error was made in marking the final assessment and/or in computing the final grade. The reappraisal will only be considered if the student provides a detailed rationale that outlines where and for what reason an error is suspected.” More information is available at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/i-3.html

University Regulations
Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the University policies found in the Academic Regulations sections of the Calendar at www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/academic-regs.html.

Student Accommodations
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor.

The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at Plagiarism And Other Forms Of Academic Misconduct
Academic misconduct in any form (e.g. cheating, plagiarism) is a serious academic offence that can lead to disciplinary probation, suspension or expulsion from the University. Students are expected to be familiar with the standards surrounding academic honesty; these can be found in the University of Calgary calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html. Such offences will be taken seriously and reported immediately, as required by Faculty of Arts policy.

Required Access to Technology
Please see the University’s resource page at https://ucalgary.service-ow.com/it?id=kb_article&sys_id=86e7438013753ac06f3afbb2e144b031

Copyright Legislation
As stated in the University of Calgary Calendar, Academic Regulations, “students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright and requirements of the copyright act to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.”

Instructor Intellectual Property
Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP)
FOIP legislation requires that instructors maintain the confidentiality of student information. In practice, this means that student assignment and tests cannot be left for collection in any public place without the consent of the student. It also means that grades cannot be distributed via email. Final exams are kept by instructors but can be viewed by contacting them or the main office in the Department of Political Science. Any uncollected assignments and tests meant to be returned will be destroyed after six months from the end of term; final examinations are destroyed after one year.

Evacuation Assembly Points
In the event of an emergency evacuation from class, students are required to gather in designated assembly points. Please check the list found at www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/assemblypoints and note the assembly point nearest to your classroom.
