SESSIONAL INSTRUCTOR OPPORTUNITIES 2019-2020
INTERNATIONAL INDIGENOUS STUDIES

The Department of Political Science is looking to fill the following sessional instructor positions (subject to funding) for the International Indigenous Studies Program. Fall session runs from September 5th – December 6th 2019 and winter session runs from January 13th to April 15th 2020. [Block week courses in the fall are scheduled August 26th – 30th and winter January 6th – 10th]

Fall Term 2019

INDG 201 L01: Introduction to Indigenous Studies (MWF 1000-1050)
A multi-disciplinary, theoretical and empirical overview of the situations, perspectives, and aspirations of selected Indigenous peoples with a focus on the Canadian context.

INDG 201 L02: Introduction to Indigenous Studies (Tu/Thr 1400-1515)
A multi-disciplinary, theoretical and empirical overview of the situations, perspectives, and aspirations of selected Indigenous peoples with a focus on the Canadian context.

INDG 303 L01 and Lec 02: Indigenous Ways of Knowing (BLOCK WEEK COURSE)
[NOTE: Lec 02 is for SOWK students only].
An introduction to various indigenous peoples ways of knowing (epistemology) with a special emphasis on the contextualization of knowledge building. Deals with various aspects of building knowledge, such as listening, reflection, protocol, and experience

INDG 303 L03: Indigenous Ways of Knowing (Thursdays 1700 – 1945)

INDG 343: Indigenous Law in Canada (Mondays 1700-1945)
Examination of the special legal and constitutional principles, provisions and instruments that have an impact on Indigenous individuals, governments and organizations. Topics covered may include aboriginal rights, treaty rights, self-government, fiduciary duties, the Royal Proclamation of 1763, the Indian Act, the 1982 Constitution, and pivotal court decisions.

Winter Term 2020

INDG 201: Introduction to Indigenous Studies (MWF 1000-1050)
A multi-disciplinary, theoretical and empirical overview of the situations, perspectives, and aspirations of selected Indigenous peoples with a focus on the Canadian context.

INDG 305 L01 and L02: Indigenous Ways of Knowing II (BLOCK WEEK COURSE)
[NOTE: Lec 02 is for SOWK students only].
An examination of the nature and relations of being (ontology) and specific responsibilities in cultural context. Integration of components of Indigenous ways of knowing. International comparison of Indigenous ways of knowing.

INDG 397: Selected Topics in Canadian INDG Studies MW (1400-1515)
Selected themes in Canadian Indigenous studies.

INDG 399: Special Topics in International Indigenous Studies (Tu/Thr 1230-1345)
Selected themes in International Indigenous studies. May focus on Indigenous peoples of only one country.

INDG 415: Indigenous Ethics and Protocol (Tu/Thr 0930-1045)
Examines principles underlying Indigenous ethics and academic and local research protocols. Including indigenous ways of knowing, indigenous methodologies, notions of relationship, spirituality, community, and responsibility in academic research, teaching and learning when collaborating with Indigenous peoples.

The application deadline is 4:00 p.m. on May 13th, 2019.

Applicants should provide a letter specifying the course(s) and session(s) of interest, their qualifications to teach each course, a list of and dates for all courses previously taught at the University of Calgary and any scheduling constraints that would need to be taken into consideration. For topics courses, please submit a statement of interest indicating the specific topic and brief description of the proposed focus for the course.

Applicants who have taught in the program within the past two years need not provide anything further. Other applicants should include the following with their letter:

- a current CV;
- name and contact information for 3 potential referees; and
- teaching evaluations (if available).

Note: Courses that do not reach enrolment requirements will be cancelled. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Applications (email applications are preferred) should be forwarded to:

Ella Wensel, Manager, Administrative Services,
Department of Political Science,
University of Calgary, Calgary, AB, T2N 2N4, email: ewensel@ucalgary.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Calgary respects, appreciates and encourages diversity.